The Time-Space journey

As I am busy writing a resume for a job I am applying for, the technology curve has increasingly continued behind the scenes. Now my resume is uploaded into a computer system, scanned by a computer, ranked by a computer, and then somewhere in the process, my name comes out as "output," so someone can call me for an interview. As I am preparing for my US income taxes, and filing online again this year, I have already typed some numbers into a website in California, and then they will mail a 1099 to someone for me.

When I shop for food, I can self-checkout, and not even talk to a person. I created an item for distribution, and had its bar code instantly created for me somewhere in the US, and emailed to me as a pdf, to add to my products. We seem to be glued to our smartphones more and more, and often are with earphones in, while listening to mp3 music.

Our body senses seem to have been replaced. I honestly can say, we have already begun moving out of our bodies, for our new consciousness bodies. In order to sort through the increased quickness of the technology that has entered into everywhere in our lives. Yes they do have robo-vacuums, and you can talk to your house to turn the lights on/off, and yes your new cars can be configured to call others through your radio, or switch back to the GPS function...let us not mention Skyping to others on the ends of the Earth.....Anyway, the technology only increases, and the time only quickens (i.e. what is time? We have near mastery over it- at least on the consciousness level, but our bodies do still age). Everything speeds up more and more each year, which is in a big picture what the Earth is doing.

Increased rays from the galaxy, are shifting our solar system and thus Earth, into a speedy move into the future, where space and time no longer exist. Yes, one day space and time will no longer exist on our Earth. We will no longer require X time to move X distance, or be individualized in our own spaces. We will be part of a large collective that lives and breathes the same- aren't we already becoming that here on the City of Shamballa website? This is how it is in time-space. Time-space is rapidly entering the picture, where we have 100% mastery over time, and we are all things and they are us, and we don't exist in a space anymore. As the bits and bytes continue to accelerate, we shift more into light. We zip to and from, and everything rotates rapidly around us.

What does this mean from the time-space perspective? Those waiting for us on the other side of the portal....time-space folks like angels and spirit guides, and passed over loved ones, are getting closer. Eventually, we will be taking our consciousness into places, without even looking back....Who has time to review, when there is so much to do in the future? Anyway, just some thoughts, let me hear your perspectives.
